

Each submitted change starts a new batch run; no live solver feedback to the network controller.